

CALL FOR PAPERS

for the next issue of the

SAUT Multi-Disciplinary

Journal of Education

to be published in November/December 2021

The Faculty of Education of St Augustine University (Mwanza) and the SMJE Editorial Board are calling for outstanding contributions to be included in the third issue of the SAUT Multi-Disciplinary Journal of Education. Our faculty comprises departments of Education Foundation, History, Geography, Kiswahili, and Languages, Linguistics & Literature. The variety of subjects in our faculty is reflected in the multi-disciplinary approach of our journal.

As a journal we are interested in bringing together innovative and illustrative perspectives, illuminating both teaching experiences and approaches as well as recent academic developments in the respective fields. The journal intends to bring together critical approaches to the present education system, looking to identify problems and to offer possible solutions regarding teaching practice, educational policies, and current research.

With this journal we hope to provide a platform for researchers to impart and share their knowledge in the form of high quality empirical and theoretical research papers, case studies, book reviews, conceptual frameworks, analytical and simulation models, and more.
